

Sickness and absence

Our research with 250 Scottish employers shows flex has...¹

Reduced sickness and absence.

Our research with 1,000+ Scottish workers shows flex makes a small impact on sickness absence.

I have taken fewer than 5 days off sick in the last year

The UK's four-day working week trial found a 65% reduction in the number of days employees were off sick or absent during the trial.²

Sickness absence fell at four construction firms taking part in a flexible working trial led by Timewise.

Rates fell between a tenth and more than half.³

¹ All figures, unless otherwise stated, were commissioned by Flexibility Works in the form of online surveys carried out by global research firm Panelbase between 6/11/23 and 20/11/23. A total of 1016 Scottish workers, 262 Scottish employers (senior leaders) and 216 unemployed Scottish adults looking for work were surveyed. Figures originally published in Flex for Life 2024 in March 2024. ² The results are in: The UK's four day working week pilot.
